

Season 2 Episode 3

The Myrtle of Safron

In a somewhat small and industrial city, a group of killer robots on treads rampage throughout the city. They destroy industrial factories and they attack civilians in the streets. A large platoon of Ultraverse Monks go to fight these attack robots and a lot of them get gunned down. One of these monks escapes and he is a nerd that appears to look awkward. He runs and hides behind a large mass of wreckage. The monk goes to his watch and he said, "They have us." The voice on the other end said, "You are breaking up. The signal must be weak." Ivan and Safron also happen to be in the platoon of monks and they fight off the killer robots but the killer robots still have the upper hand on Ivan and Safron. Ivan and Safron run for a hiding place and they end up next to the awkward nerd monk. The awkward nerd said, "We need get out of here." Ivan said, "We are pinned down by these robots. What are these things anyways?" The nerd said, "I think they from the Dark Universe and are using this industrial town as testing ground." Safron said, "That is a pretty good observation." The awkward monk said, "I know you. You are Safron. You that punk that skates and stuff." Safron said, "I spend the better of my days skating." The nerd said, "You are Ivan. You are that yin-yang one they talk of." Ivan said, "Of course I am." The nerd said, "I, Julian. I help you beat down these robots. We can defeat all them as team." Safron said, "Sure we can." Julian said, "I know Ivan trigger yin-yang powers that help us win." Safron said, "I don't know about that. Certain conditions have to be met for that to work." Ivan said, "I may be able to form into my mech. I think these conditions are right."

Ivan runs to a group of robots. The robots fire volleys of shots at Ivan. Ivan begins to form into a yin-yang and he turns into his yin-yang mech with the flame sword and arm cannon. Ivan blasts down some of the robots and he cuts some up but some other robots grab onto both of Ivan's arms. Safron watches in horror. Julian runs out and Safron said, "Don't run out. You are going to get killed." Julian forms into a yin-yang and he throws yin-yang discs at the evil robots and he destroys them. Ivan and Julian in yin-yang battle forms go against the remaining robots and they destroy them. Safron looks around. Safron said, "Ivan. I am glad you are alright." Safron kisses Ivan. Safron said, "Julian. You are a yin-yangite too?" Ivan and Julian form back into their regular selves. Julian said, "I have yin-yang powers. I don't know what do with them or what I supposed to be. I join monks to figure out truth." Safron said, "That sounds similar to why Ivan joined the monks. Looks like you have a friend that is also a yin-yangite." Ivan and Julian look at each other.

A monk transport lands in the city and picks up Ivan, Safron, and Julian. On the transport, Safron said, "So, when did you become a monk?" Julian said, "It was long time ago. I don't remember. All I know is I serve higher purpose." Ivan said, "What do you know of the yin-yangites?" Julian said, "I discover they form magical beings of magical powers. It is what we do out in battle. Are you love?" Safron said, "If you are asking if we are in love then we totally are. Ivan is my boyfriend." Ivan said, "I guess you could call me that." Julian said, "That good of you."

Ivan and Julian are in Grand Master Augi's office in the main Ultraverse Monastery. Augi looks at battle reports and he said, "I am quite astonished. I thought Ivan was the only yin-yangite in the Ultraverse Monks. I didn't know we had another one." Julian said, "I try hide from people because they not understand." Augi said, "You don't have to worry. In this day and age, we Ultraverse Monks are liberal and accepting people. We value the differences in our monks. I think the two of you will get along well and I think you should hang out with each other and learn more about each other. Maybe you can uncrack the final secrets of the yin-yangites."

Ivan and Julian walk down a street in the Ultraverse. Ivan said, "I already know a lot about the yin-yangites. I know that they are rumored to be sacred people when really there is nothing overly special about them other than the powers they have that normal human people don't have. There is also a hoax that I was the yin-yang chosen one. All those books those yin-yangites wrote are nothing but fraud." Julian said, "I never find books or anyone else like me except you." Ivan said, "Do you have any other bizarre powers?" Julian said, "I do have desires." Ivan said, "What do you mean?" Julian said, "Come to house and I will show you."

Ivan and Julian enter Julian's house and it is a rich and beautiful looking mansion. Ivan is intrigued by the fact there are statues of Safron everywhere. One of them is a water fountain. There is another gold statue of Safron that stands over the entire main room and she is dressed like an ancient Greek. Ivan said, "Is that, Safron?" Julian said, "Yes. Safron always fascinates me. She look like beauty but she have strong and heroic character. I always try be like her." Ivan said, "You know I am close with her. Maybe you can hang out with her and know her better as a friend." Julian said, "I don't know. I tried doing that with other female monks and they all slap me in face and call me pervert." Ivan said, "Safron wouldn't do that. She's nice and sweet."

Julian cooks up an exquisite feast filled with exotic foods that look like they would be enjoyed by gods. Ivan said, "This food is the best. How did you cook all this?" Julian said, "My yin-yang mind tell me to make peace with anything and involves good cooking skill. Come with me. I show you more." Julian takes Ivan down to his private art gallery. Julian said, "This my private art gallery. I never brought anyone else down here but I trust you since you also like me." Julian shows Ivan an art gallery that contains art of Safron. One of them is a picture of Safron in lingerie and she is holding a large bowl of fruit. Ivan said, "These paintings are so realistic and lifelike. How did you paint these?" Julian said, "I don't paint them. I pay people to paint for me. Maybe you paint something for me. I think you be good at painting or maybe sculpting. I would pay you using this currency I find." Julian hands Ivan some bills and coins that display a * symbol on them. Ivan said, "Something is off about this currency. I will still make the art for you." Ivan begins by painting. Julian said, "I want you paint her like in that painting I showed you. I want full beauty to be exposed." Ivan paints Safron skating in a skatepark in panties and a shirt that exposes most of her body. Ivan paints the picture with great detail. Julian looks at the final painting and he said, "It look awesome. It reflect on her skateboard personality. I love it. Now I want you sculpt her."

Ivan works away at modelling Safron out of clay. Julian said, "You need sculpt her as in design I draw." Julian hands Ivan a design drawing of what he wants the sculpt to look like. The drawing looks like it was drawn by a little kid. Ivan goes ahead and sculpts Safron. Julian said, "It look nice but she dressed as she normal. I want her to be dress like this..." Ivan sees how she is to be dressed. Ivan said, "I am getting paid for this." Ivan sculpts her accordingly.

Julian looks at Ivan's final products. Julian gets a small stack of paintings and a large sculpt of Safron from Ivan. Julian said, "These I like. You fine artist, Ivan. I will give you rest of pay." Julian gives Ivan a red and black striped top hat filled with the strange currency. Ivan spots a book with the yin-yang on it. Ivan goes to the book and Ivan said, "What is this?" Julian said, "It book." Ivan said, "What is this a book of?" Julian said, "That book is one of only things I had in first memory. Every memory I have before memory is non-existent. It is of me with book and being sent in prison transport." Ivan said, "A prison transport?" Julian said, "That all long time ago." Ivan said, "May I look at this book?" Julian said, "Yes."

Ivan opens the book and starts reading. It shows ancient looking illustrations. It shows a yin-yangite that looks like Ivan and it shows a yin-yangite that looks like Julian. It shows them being born in the same place in the yin-yangite home world. It shows Ivan being brought to his father and mother while the one that looks like Julian is brought to an evil empire world. Julian is raised by warlords from an empire and Julian's yin-yangite powers are being used to help the warlords win over several different universes. While this is happening, it shows the one that looks like Ivan living a normal life and then being brought to the Ultraverse to become a monk. It ends with Ivan and Julian going against each other with their yin-yangite powers. Ivan said, "Do you know what this book means?" Julian said, "I think that supposed to be me in book."

I don't know if that coincidence or not." Ivan said, "Something must be at large here." Julian said, "Also, I want you to give one of the paintings to Safron. It would tell her how much you think of her. You can also have key to this place so you may visit your art as much you want."

Ivan goes to Safron's house. Safron said, "Ivan. I heard you were hanging out with Julian. Did you learn anything?" Ivan said, "I learned a lot about my history or what might be my history." Safron said, "What's that you got there?" Safron grabs the painting and she looks at it and a disgusted look forms on her face. Safron said, "Ivan. Who tricked you into painting this?" Ivan said, "Julian." Safron said, "That's what I thought. What more did he make you do?" Ivan said, "He made me paint a bunch of paintings of you in your panties skateboarding or holding fruit boxes or..." Safron gets an angered look on her face. Safron said, "Did Julian pay you to make these?" Ivan said, "He did with this strange currency." Ivan shows the currency to Safron. Safron said, "I am going to rip Julian a new one. I am starting to suspect something here. Tell me everything you learned about him."

Ivan and Safron are at an Ultraverse currency exchange place. The expert looks at the currency and he said, "Yes. It looks like you were paid a small sum of currency from the Asterix Empire." Ivan and Safron's eyes go big. The expert said, "It is likely that the person you were dealing with had ties with the Asterix Empire." Safron said, "Didn't he give you a key to his place?" Ivan shows Safron the key. Safron said, "We are barging in on him."

Ivan and Safron barge into Julian's place. Safron's eyes go big as she walks around and sees the statues of herself and she sees the sculpt Ivan made of her. Safron said, "I am amazed by these. Someone must really be obsessed with me." Ivan said, "The art room is this way." Ivan takes Safron to the art room where there are even more disturbing paintings of Safron. Safron starts to get an angry look on her face. Safron yells, "Where is Julian?" Julian pops up from around one of the stacks of Safron art. Julian said, "Safron. You finally got to see my work." Safron said, "What's the meaning of this?" Julian said, "Let me explain. I find you to be work of beauty and I think every piece of art should have something of your amazing body." Safron said, "My body?" Julian said, "Look. Ever since I was forced away here from Asterix Empire, I developed a burning desire to be with you forever." Ivan and Safron said, "You are from the Asterix Empire?" Julian said, "I wanted to win your affection by making these paintings of you. I cannot draw nor paint nor sculpt so I paid people to make them. I paid Ivan."

Safron said, "You are from the Asterix Empire?" Julian said, "I was. They want kick me out but they keep me because of powers. They want me to defeat Ivan like in book." Safron said, "This makes total sense now." Julian forms into a yin-yang and he ends up in a yin-yang suit armed with yin-yang discs. Ivan forms into a yin-yang and forms into his battle mech self. Ivan and Julian clash into each other. They battle around the art room and most of the paintings and sculptures in there of Safron get destroyed. Ivan and Julian break out of the art room and they end up in the foyer where all the Safron statues are. Ivan and Julian form into yin-yang balls and they bounce around and they smash into each other. They constantly clash into each other and they form back into their yin-yang selves on opposite ends of the room. Safron stands on the sidelines and watches all this. Julian grabs onto Safron. Julian said, "It over. Safron mine." Safron yells, "Help me, Ivan!" Ivan runs for Julian and Julian throws discs at Ivan and they cut up his yin-yang mech. Safron's eyes go big. Safron said, "I guess I have to take matters into my own hands now."

Safron takes out her skateboard and she smashes Julian on the head with it. Julian steps back a bit and Safron places her skateboard on the floor and Julian steps on the skateboard and trips over and falls on his back. Safron smashes Julian in the head with the skateboard and it leaves her board in two. Julian said, "Your skateboard. It what makes you what you are?" Safron said, "I've got plenty more." Safron draws out her monk sword. Julian throws discs at Safron and Safron blocks them off with her sword. Safron runs for Julian and she cuts up his yin-yang suit. Safron keeps rapidly cutting it up leaving Julian in his yin-yang briefs. Julian said, "You must understand, Safron. I only did this because I want you to be girlfriend for me." Safron said, "I have a boyfriend. My boyfriend is Ivan." Julian starts crying and he gets on his knees. Julian said, "I am sorry about all this. I wanted to make you like me. I just wanted to defeat Ivan and have you be my girlfriend. They may have given me my own universe to rule. The Asterix Empire promised me a lot." Safron said, "If there is one thing I know, it is that you never trust fools and that is exactly what the Asterix Empire is. I want you to get rid of all this art with me. Once Augi finds out about this, you are getting discharged from the monk order." Ivan uses the sword in his yin-yang mech and he cuts the legs of the gold Safron statue and the statue begins to fall over. Safron uses her monk sword and she cuts down the legs of the statue Ivan made of her. The two statues start falling down forwards. Julian runs into the middle of them. Julian said, "No! My babies!" Julian raises his arms and he tries to grab onto the statues but they crush him into the floor and he turns into an egg.

Ivan forms back into his normal self and Ivan and Safron run to the egg. Safron said, "Is he dead?" Ivan said, "It seems so." Ivan places his ear up to the egg. Ivan hears Julian's voice say, "Ivan, I just wanted to be Safron's boyfriend. I know you don't think of her that way. I just wanted to progress... I just..." The egg goes mute. Safron said, "What is he saying?" Ivan said, "He is just blabbering about more useless nonsense."

Ivan and Safron are at an estate firm. The estate manager said, "It seems here that Julian died and he had no real family or friends. He actually wrote his will just a day before he died and he actually wants you, Ivan to have all his stuff." Ivan said, "I don't want any of his disease contaminated stuff. The only thing I am interested in is this book." Ivan holds the yin-yang book that Julian had.

Safron visits Ivan as he is reading Julian's book. Safron said, "You have been deeply interested in that book in the past few days." Ivan said, "The more I read this book, the more disturbed I get. I am starting to think that I may have been born in the same place as Julian in a batch of these yin-yangites. I think he might be related to me. I don't want to think I am related to a creep like him." Safron said, "Even if you are related to him, that doesn't mean you are anything like him. Just look at my family. I have two sisters and none of them are similar to me. We are our own individual unique people. Other people that are related to us do not define who or what we are. I still think the same of you as I always had." Safron gets close to Ivan and kisses him.
